

Brockman Agency
A Financial Services Broker

BUSINESS EQUIPMENT LEASING:

The Brockman Agency is a financial services broker, providing business owners with the best financial products & services in the industry. In addition to insurance and point-of-sales services, we can provide financing to your business client on the purchasing of your products. This gives your business clients a one-stop shop for the equipment they need and the financing needed to make the purchase. This also helps your business to sell more products.

We serve most all business types and equipment dealers, vendors, & distributors. If your business needs to purchase equipment, let the Brockman Agency help by providing the financing with a lease contract. Leasing save you out-of-pocket cost, reserves current credit lines and provides tax advantages as well. You just pick the equipment vendor you want and we'll do the rest. We'll finance just about any type of equipment a business could use even used equipment.

We have multiple financial sources which enable us to get the funding you need, no matter if you are the dealer selling the equipment or the business purchasing the equipment, we can get the deal done. Our leasing products makes good business sense for all involved dealers, vendors, distributors, and the equipment end-user.
